

The Research Partnership has made a number of appointments and expanded its portfolio of services for Therapy KnowlEdge, the company's international online tracking panel. Tim Robinson has joined as director of therapy KnowlEdge. Previously an account director at P/S/L Group, Robinson has six years experience running global tracking programs and syndicated patient audits. Diarra Peereboom joins the team as panel manager. She brings her depth of experience of panel management from over five years experience in fieldwork management at Fieldwork International. She will support current development initiatives by engaging with the specialist respondent communities across the various therapy areas. Mei Chen Lee will shortly be joining Katrina Johnson in the Toronto office. She recently completed her master's in marketing and consumer studies with particular focus on sensory cue effects on memory in online research.
